

FIGURE 14.8. Dominance is an interaction between homologous genes at the same locus (D), whereas epistasis is an interaction between genes at different loci (ϵ). Lines show the two genomes in a diploid individual, with loci A, B.